BRANDMARK

Our Logo

Our logotype is the combination of our Brandmark and our Arabic language descriptor, connected by a vertical rule. Whilst our Brandmark may be used on its own, it is our logotype that should be used wherever possible. Either our logotype or Brandmark must appear on all of the communications we create.

Our logo

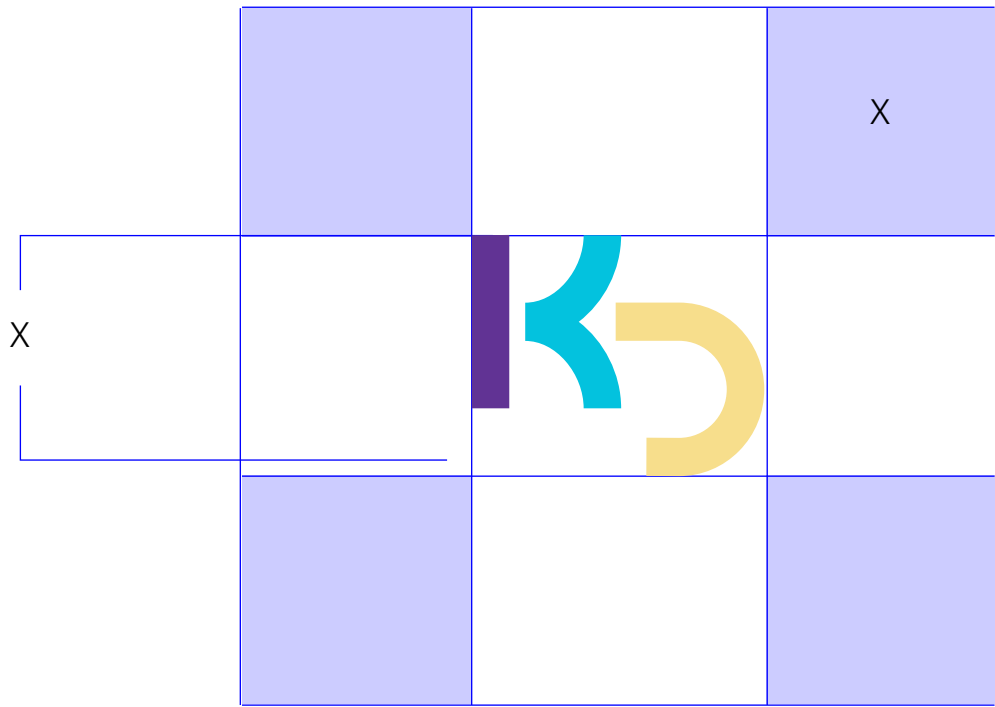

Brandmark

Clear Space

The clear space boundary is the margin surrounding the logo and must be free from any visual interference. Our clear space for external use is equivalent to the height of F.

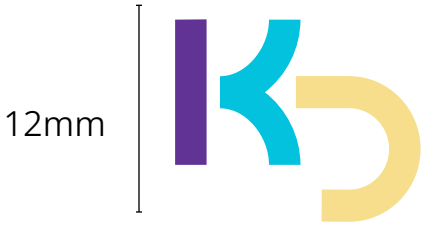

The logo has been optimized to work in different sizes, in digital and in print, and never reduce below the minimum sizes stated here.

Logo Treatment

There are different logo artwork files for varying reproduction requirements.

Full-color versions

Wherever possible use the full-color logo in preference to the greyscale or single-colored versions.

Greyscale versions

Use the greyscale logo versions for B/W reproduction.

Single-color versions

Use our single-color logo versions for BETWEEN reproduction, and also on all colored backgrounds.

Minumum Size

Logo on imagery

For light photographic backgrounds use our full-color logo. For dark photographic backgrounds use either the full-color or white versions of our logo. Always ensure there is sufficient contrast between our logotype and the image background to be clearly visible.

Please Avoid...

Our logo should always be reproduced from the master artwork provided. It should never be altered, re-drawn, recolored, or manipulated in any way. The examples on this page show what to avoid when using the logo:

DO NOT stretching the logo

DO NOT recolor the logo

DO NOT resize or move the logo elements

DO NOT outline the logotype

DO NOT add drop shadows or any other effect

DO NOT use transparency with the full color logotype

Logo Positioning

open space in a spot where it is clearly visible and readable and in harmony with other elements. The top right and bottom right corners are the preferred positions, however, you may also place the logo in the top left or bottom left corners depending on what works best in the specific context. You may place the logo on top of images or solid colors as long as there is sufficient contrast between our logo and the background. Centered On a few applications where the logo is debossed, engraved, etc, the logo may be positioned in the center.

for arabic layout

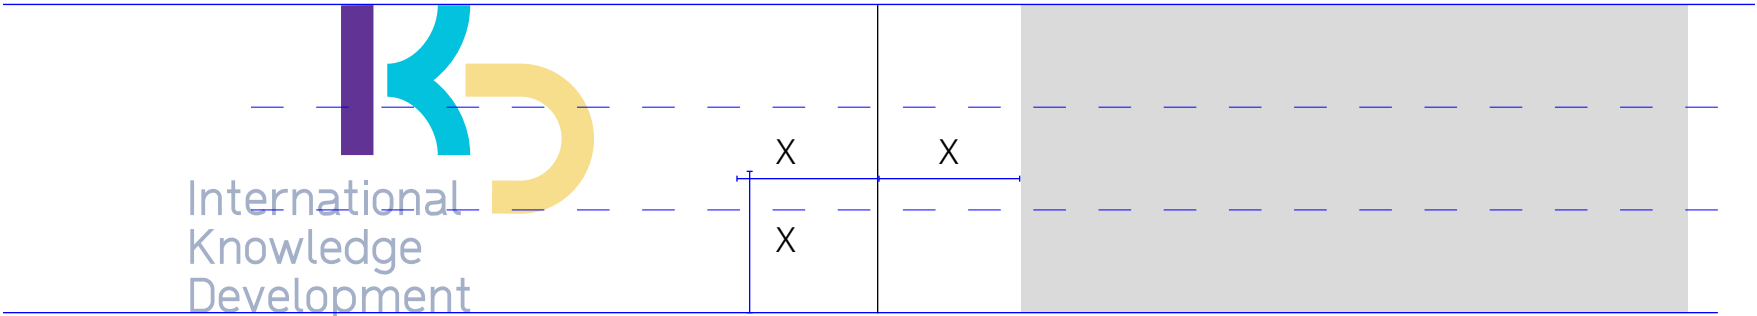

for english layout

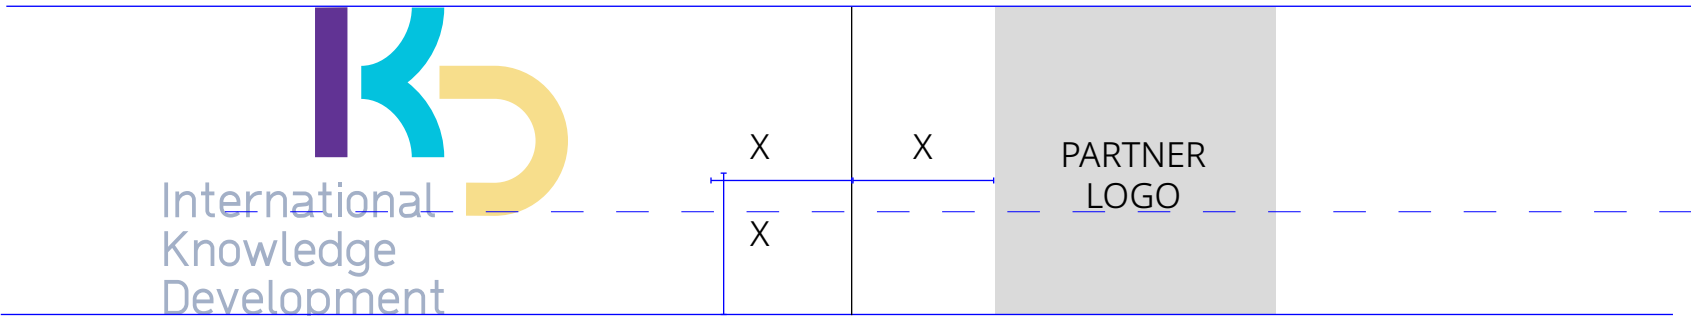

When applied to some applications where the logo is debossed, engraved, etc., you can place the logo in the center.

Partnership

In situations where we need to apply a partner's brand alongside our logo, we use a separator and a scale relation comprising horizontal, vertical, and square brands.

Color Balance

The color balance across all communications is important in order to maintain a consistent visual image. This Graph shows the proportion in which the Colors should be combined.

Using color

our logo color palettes allow for a wide variety of color choices and combinations. For most uses, choose one or two colors from different areas of the spectrum and pair them with black and white. When pairing colors, ensure that accessibility contrast ratios of at least 3:1 are maintained between background and foreground. You can use the color accessibility table on the following page of these guidelines as a reference.

LAYOUT DESIGN

Creating a Grid

We use a modular grid system with a simple visual approach and structure designed to better accommodate different types of content and applications.

To create a grid, find the shortest side of the format. The grid unit is 5% of the measure of the smaller side. After determining the basic structure, designers can resize the grid to fit perfectly into the format. Please contact our branding team for specific cases in which the determined margin is not ideal.

Examples Vertical

After the grid is set up and adjusted, divide the format into blocks to hold the content you want to lay out. Each block must have a margin equivalent to 1 (one) grid unit (5%).

Dark

Examples Horizontal

DIGITAL

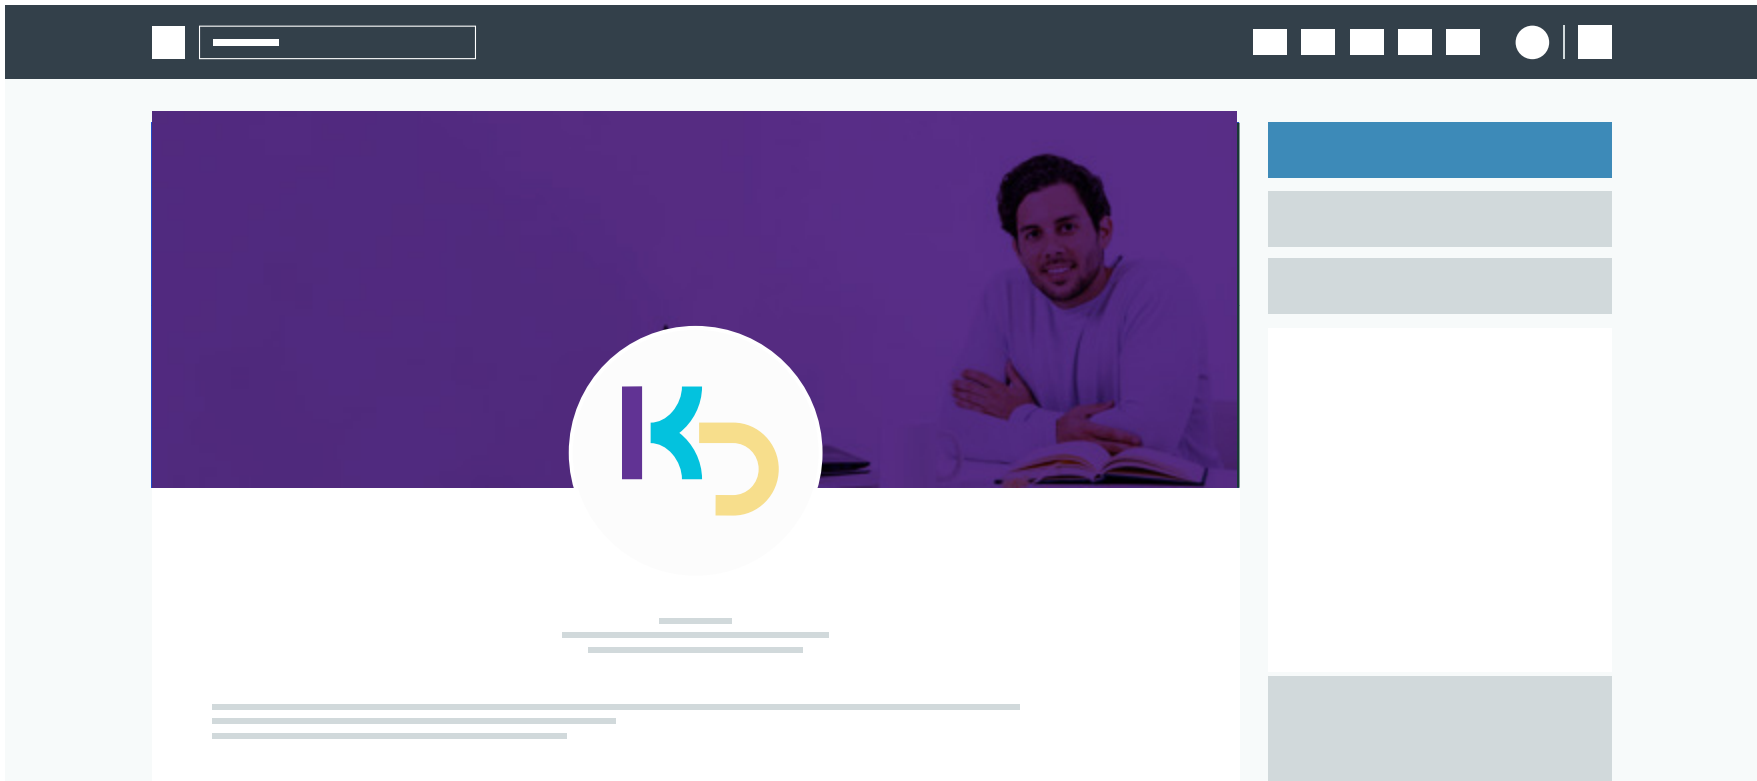

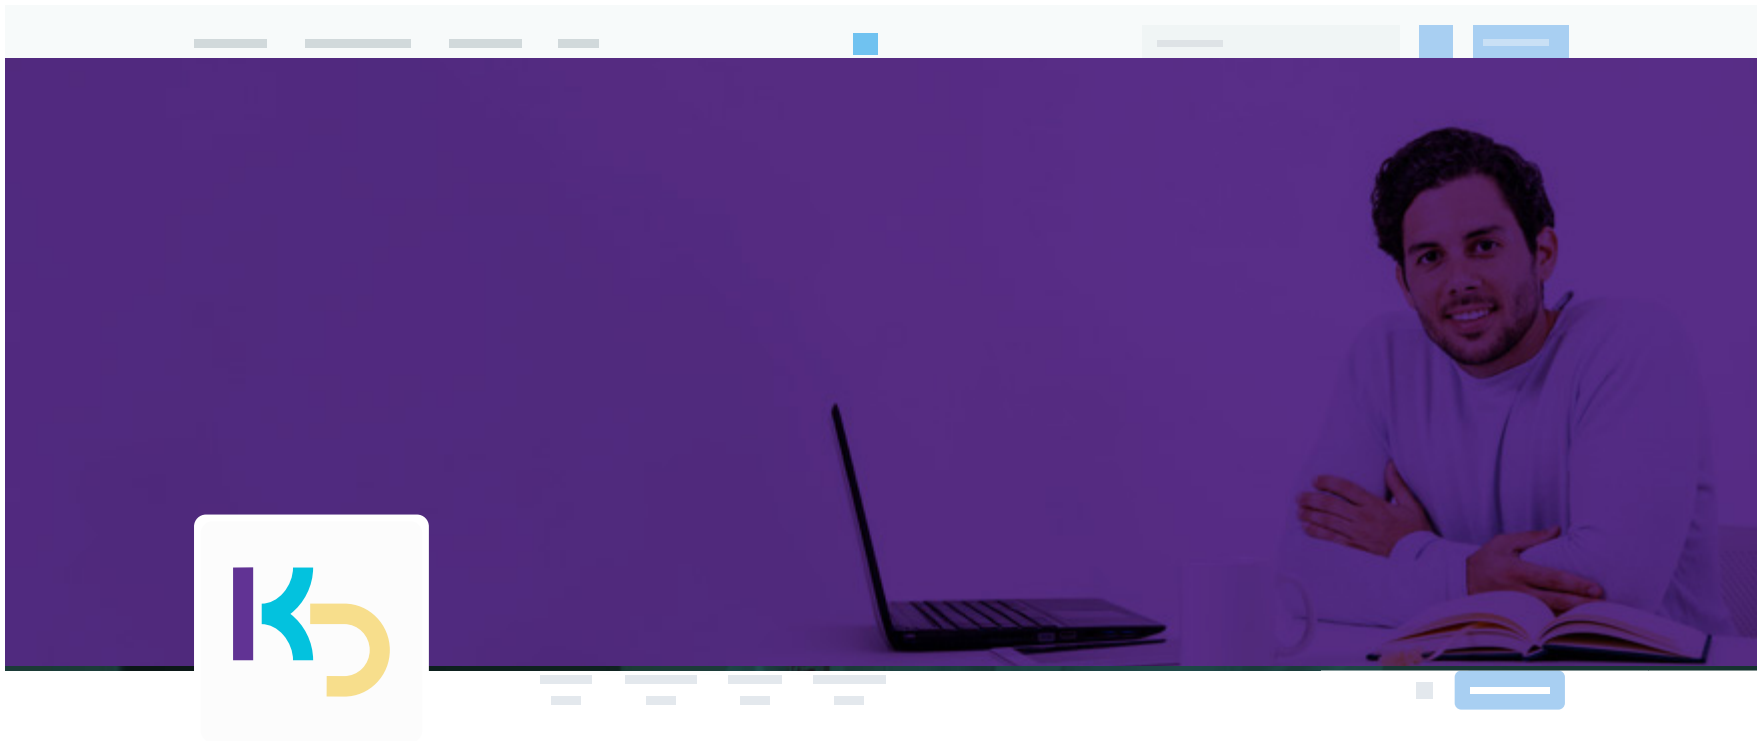

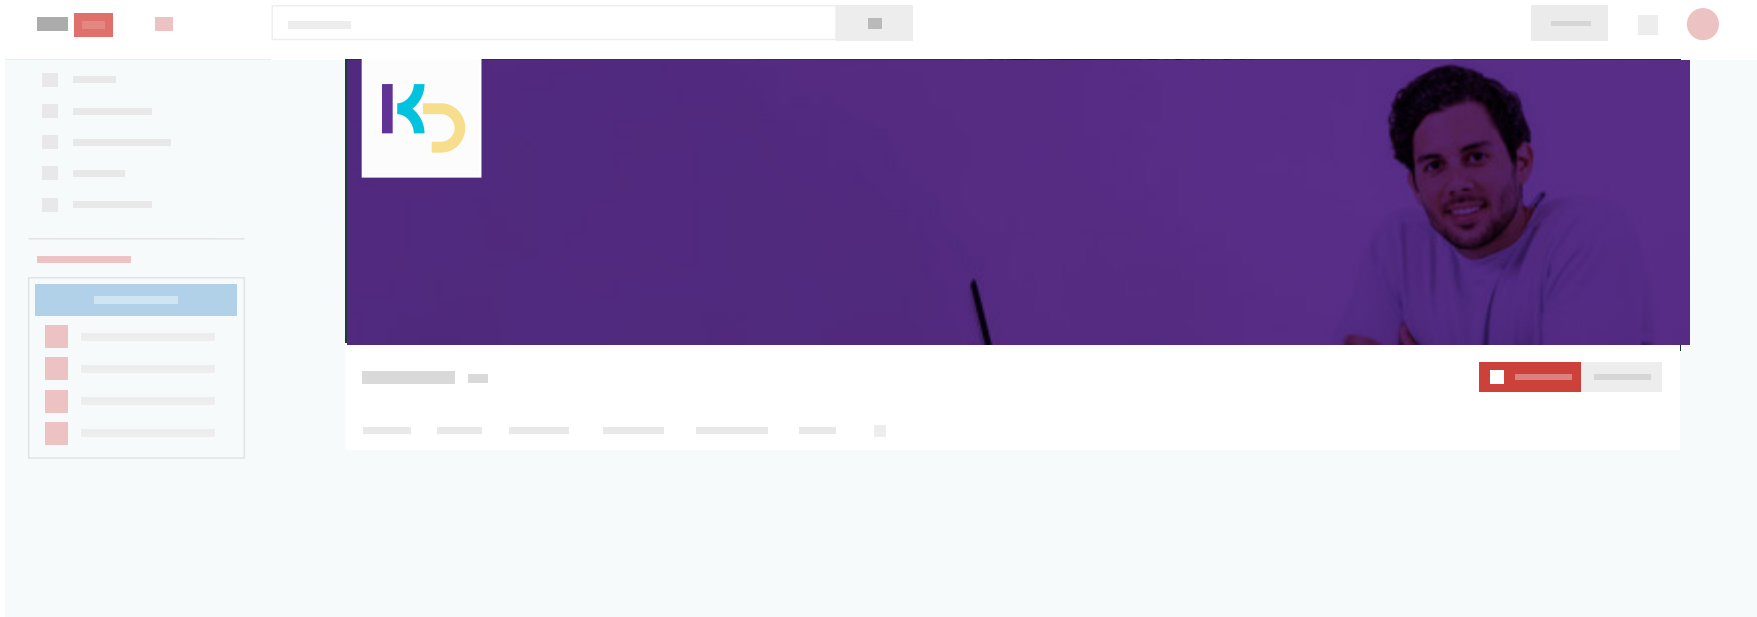

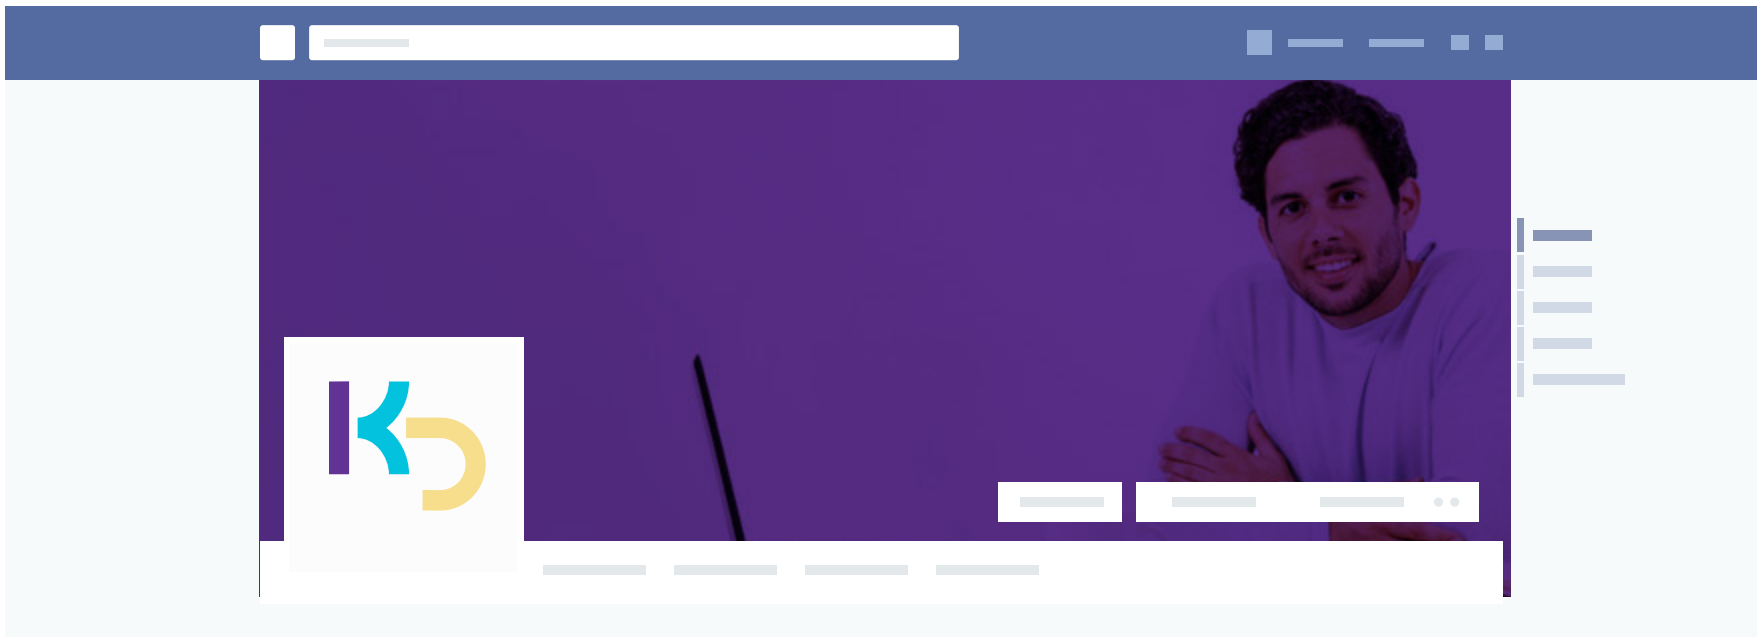

Profile Picture

Our colored logo is to be used as a profile on all social media channels but sometimes you can use white as you can see here. Please note that this image is circular on most sites, and therefore you must ensure that the entire logo is visible within the circular crop.

Header

Many social platforms support header/banner images. When choosing these images, please ensure they are of good quality and in accordance with our brand image style. Only use images that fit naturally within the panoramic format of these headers without cropping out too much of the main subject.

Thank you
